

CLINICAL TRIALS PARTICIPATION:

The difference between a long shot...

A green ribbon banner with the text "NATIONAL CANCER MOONSHOT" in white, curved letters. The banner is positioned in the upper right quadrant of the image, partially overlapping the moon.

NATIONAL CANCER MOONSHOT

...and a moonshot.

An illustration of an astronaut in a white spacesuit standing on a green and blue Earth. Next to the astronaut is a white rocket with a green band and a green nose cone. The rocket has the words "CLINICAL TRIALS" written on its side. A black orbital path with a satellite and a space station is shown in the background against a starry night sky. A large white moon is in the upper right.
